Web ONLY Special Offer: How to Write Copy That Produces Results For Podiatry Practices

The ability to write marketing copy that actually works is an essential tool for every podiatry practice. The problem is that almost no one in your practice has this skill or has ever been taught this skill. It is a skill that can be learned. There are principles that, if followed, will transform your boring words into great copy that inspire people to take an action that culminates in coming to your practice to solve their foot and ankle problems.

Rem's Rules for Copywriting:

- Rem's Rule #1 Marketing copy is not supposed to entertain or inform—it is supposed to sell.
- Rem's Rule #2 You should only sell people things that will help them solve their problems.
- Rem's Rule #3 You have to KNOW your prospects just like you know your own family.
- Rem's Rule #4 You Need to know your Unique Selling Proposition (USP).
- Rem's Rule #5 Don't skip rules 1,2,3, and 4.
- Rem's Rule #6 Enter the conversation that is already going on in the minds of the people you want to attract. –Robert Collier
- Rem's Rule #7 Nobody cares about you.
- Rem's Rule #8 Who says so besides you?
- Rem's Rule #9 You have to write copy that people will actually read.
- Rem's Rule #10 Tell a story.
